JAMES WOOD | FOUNDER & HEAD ENGINEER

James Wood has worked in music since 2005, beginning as a battle rap artist while teaching himself recording and production in Fredericksburg, Virginia. After moving to Florida in 2008, he built his engineering career in local studios and founded Executive Studios in 2013. He is known for artist-focused sessions, technical precision, and work spanning independent projects, major-label artists, producers, and nationally recognized recording studios.
